Seniors: I can't say that I'm disappointed in the fact that after May I'll no longer have to wait until midnight to do my laundry because that's the only time the machines are free, or that I won't be awakened to banging on the apartment door at 2 a.m. by my roommate because she "couldn't find" her key. I also won't miss standing in line for a soggy tuna melt at the school cafeteria, waiting in line for a shower and then getting the one that only runs on "frigid", or having to pay $55 for a "required" textbook that is only used twice during the semester. (None of this was in the brochures they sent me). What I will miss, however are those spontaneous times that will be the definitive memories of my years in college: mud-sliding through campus during the flood, a major food fight in the cafeteria, road trips to nowhere, messing with campus security guards. You know, all the stuff that you wish could be captured in the yearbook but just can't be because "you had to be there." I'm glad to say that I was "there." Rachel Douches, March 1996.

YOU WANTED A GREAT...

YOU WANTED A

The wanted men of YCP at their best !

MR. YCP...

When you want the best of York College's male talent and abilities, look no further than the Mr. YCP contest. This annual competition, which showcases male representatives from YCP's organizations, clubs, sororities and fraternities was held on Friday, November 17, 1995. The competitors are judged on suit, swimsuit and a talent competition. Included in the festivities were numerous musical, dance and comedy acts. In the end, the "wanted" man for the coveted title of Mr. YCP was Scott Russomano, a representative of the student senate. Scott's activity for the talent competition was a dance show with three friends set to the Village People's "YMCA". It just goes to show that the men of YCP are truly wanted men!

YOU WANTED A

MISS YCP

What do you get when you combine 19 beautiful women, 13 little black dresses, a hula dancer, a bicker chick, a Liza Minelli impersonator, a group of dancing cowboys, a group of dancing amish, some coconuts, and one truly kooky emcee? Over the course of at least three hours on March 22, these items blended together to give us yet another installment of a York College tradition... the 1996 Miss YCP pageant. Despite a sudden snowstorm that hit that afternoon, DeMeester Theater was packed to capacity with students who wanted to watch these women compete in the areas of talent, swimwear, and evening gown. While some of the talents left us wondering "Huh?", the evening proved why it is one of the most looked-forward to events of the year.

"My best friend is representing our sorority and we're all going to cheer her on together," said sophomore Eimear O'Sullivan. While a majority of the contestants were representing sororities and fraternities, this was not exclusively a Greek event. Groups such as the Recreation Society, C.U.L.T, and the Black Student Union all sponsored contestants. "I'm so glad a non-sorority girl won this year," said senior Jeremy Brown.

Judged by faculty and staff, the nineteen contestants were narrowed down to six finalists : Christine Ward (Phi Kappa Epsilon), Anne Thomas (Omega Chi), Jodi Zegans (Phi Mu), Kelley Fay (Zeta Beta Tau), Inez Ramirez (International Students), and Rachel Douches (Horizon Yearbook). Then, after being asked one rather silly question each, ("What is your favorite season and why?"), the judges made their collective decision, and emcee Dominic Zampella declared Rachel Douches the new Miss YCP.

LIFE IS SHORT:

PLAY FIELD HOCKEY

Reuniting after a long summer break, the York College field hockey players were anxious to begin a new season. Pre-season began on August 28, 1995 where many demanding hours of practice and conditioning prepared us for the upcoming season. Led by Head Coach Vicki Sutton, Assistant Coach Rebecca Lankford, and tri-captains Leslie Burnett, Heather Rowley, and Kelly Spencer, we finished our season with a 10 game win and 8 game loss record, which was the Spartan's best record ever.

In addition to a winning season, we are proud of our three 2nd team All Conference team members. Among these players are Heather Rowley, Kelly Spencer, and Jamie Torkar. Other individual honors were awarded to Wendy Mitchell for Academic All-American and the MVP award went to Heather Rowley.

York's offense also scored a second time high of 34 goals, while we only allowed 29 to slip through. Among the leading scorers were Kelly Spencer with 10 goals and 2 assists, Leslie Burnett with 5 goals and 5 assists, and Erika Krick with 5 goals and 4 assists. Midfield player Carrie D'Amour also contributed 8 assists. In the cage was Denise Green who had 6 shutouts and a save percent of .836.

Overall, we performed to the best of our ability and are satisfied with the outcome of the '95 season. We only have two seniors who will be leaving us in the '96 season; however, we will miss the leadership and spirit that they contributed to the team. Our 1996 team will consist of underclassmen with one senior, five juniors, thirteen sophomores, and an incoming group of talented freshman.

We would also like to thank our Athletic Trainer, Sue Sponsler, Student Trainer Rich Barke, Sports Information Director Scott Guise, scorekeepers Colleen McGowen and Dana Guiffreda, Lisbeth Crouse and Kerri Gilbert, and finally the grounds crew for a great field to play on.

Freshman Midfielder Jamie Torkar is prancing toward the ball. Torkar was named 2nd team All Conference with 2 assists and 8 points.

Sophomore Midfielder Wendy Mitchell is on the ball. Mitchell contributed 1 goal, 1 assist, totalling 3 points for the '95 season.

Junior Captain Kelly Spencer is fighting for the ball. Spencer was named 2nd team All Conference and holds the record with 10 individual goals per season, 2 assists, totalling 22 points. To the left is freshman Jamie Torkar and in the background is senior Captain Heather Rowey, who was also named 2nd Team All Conference with 3 goals, 4 assists, and 10 points to finish the season.

A talented player with an impressive record, Jess Elicker was named with the honor of All-Tournament at Western Maryland.

Melanie Miller digs the ball.

Displaying her versatility, Jeri-Lynn Mondin spikes the ball over the net, which is not her usual specialty as the setter.

Melanie Miller and Sue Becker almost clear the net as they jump to block a shot from Catholic. Freshman Sue Becker was named All-Tournament at Messiah while Melanie Miller, a sophomore transfer from Rider University, also proved to be an asset to the Spartans.

YCP VOLLEYBALL:

CAN YOU DIG IT?

The 1995 season began with our first voluntary practice on Monday, August 21, 1995. We had 15 players try out, including only five returning players. Returning as our only senior was Leah Peters, a First Team All-Conference player and leading setter in the CAC. Juniors Leslie Chrismer and Christy Spangler, along with Leah Peters, would become our tri-captains.

While we were going to be very young, it became apparent that the overall level of the team had improved significantly. Melanie Miller, Sue Becker, Jess Elicker, Jeri Mondin, Erica McLaughlin, and Aimee Lagueux all brought quality experience to the 1995 team. Carol Laugeux and Billie Jo Wood would round out the team as we decided to increase the size of the team to twelve. This would enable us to scrimmage six on six, provide a deeper bench in case of injury and provide more opportunities for participation.

We finished with an overall record of 26-18 which is the third highest total number of wins in YCP history. We finished 3rd in the Capital Athletic Conference with a conference record of 5-4. We won the Western Maryland Tournament at less than full strength by being one of only three teams to defeat Gallaudet all season. When considering our performance against our team goals, we improved on 1994's record, we served better than 90% as a team, and we earned much respect for our accomplishments.

HARD WORK PAYS OFF

Women

This was the first official season for women's cross country since it was dropped as a varsity sport in the mid 1980's. However, women have been competing as an unofficial team since the reinstatement of the men's cross country program in the fall of 1991.

The team compiled an outstanding 8-1 dual meet record, highlighted by a third place finish at the Conference Championship hosted by York College at John Rudy County Park.

Individual highlights include Jennifer Meyers' 9th place finish and Stacey McCauslin's 10th place finish at the Conference Championship meet, which earned them 2nd Team All-Conference honors. Also, at the Cabrini Invitational, four York runners--Jen Meyers, Heather O'Deay, Julie Lockard, and Erin Luttenberger received medals for finishing in the top fifteen. In post-season competition Heather O'Deay, Jen Meyers, and Laura Weisberg participated in the NCAA Division III Mid-East Regional on November 11 at Dickinson College.

Men

The team rebounded from a disappointing 1994 dual meet season to go undefeated in 1995 with an 8-0 dual meet record. Other team highlights include repeating as team champs at the Cabrini Invitational and hosting the Conference Championship meet at John Rudy County Park.

Individual highlights include Chris Young's seventh place finish at the Conference Championship meet earning him first team All-Conference honors for the second year in a row. Also, at the Cabrini Invitational, five York runners: Chris Young, George Livingston, Tom Weiss, Steve Blasi, and Josh Syvetrsen--received medals for finishing in the top fifteen. In post-season competition, Chris Young, George Livingston, Steve Schilling, Steve Blasi, Greg Matvey, Dale Knause, and Tom Wess participated in the NCAA Division III Mid-East Regional on November 11 at Dickinson College.

Cross Country is a challenging sport that requires a great deal of endurance. Running toward the finish line, Steve Schilling displays the necessary strength to finish such a demanding race.

Named Most Valuable Player of the '95 Women's Team, Heather O'Deay strides past another opponent.

Senior Chris Young was selected as the Most Valuable player of the Men's Team and was named to the CAC All-Conference 1st Team.

Pushing herself to perform at her best, Julie Lockard emerges as one of the leaders of the race.

The cross-country team was a very close-knit squad. Proudly displaying their award for their accomplishments, the team takes a moment to pose for a snapshot.

Whipping her arms and using leg power, Amy Onorato swims the butterfly stroke.

Diving off the platform, MVP Melissa Beck gets a great start against her competitors from Mary Washington College. Beck specialized in the 500 and 200 yard freestyle and the 100 yard butterfly events. She was captain both her sophomore and senior years. Beck was a very hard working swimmer who was a major contributor to the rebuilding of the women's team.

Senior captain Pat Full was described by his coach as a "team leader, very hard working, dedicated, and determined." Pat specialized in the 500, 200, and 100 yard freestyle events. He was elected captain both his junior and senior years. Pat was a member of the record holding 400 freestyle relay in 1993.

Racing down her assigned lane, Shannon Pratt performs the crawl stroke. Pratt, a junior on the team, was a consistent and dedicated team member.

SPLISH SPLASH

The 1995-96 Women's Swimming Team ended its season with a 1-11 record overall and a 0-6 record in the CAC Conference. It was a very difficult year for the women due to the small team size and several of the swimmers being injured throughout the season. However, the women turned the season around and focused on their individual abilities and their chances in the CAC Conference Championships. Freshman Lisa Lyon set a new school record in the 100 yard backstroke with a time of 1:05.36. She was a vital addition to the team this year, by anchoring both the 100 yard Freestyle and 200 yard Freestyle relays. Other members of the relays were Melissa Beck, Tara Monahan, and Amy Onorato.

Several members of the women's team were new to the competitive swimming world, however, with hard work, dedication and the guidance of the upperclassmen, they dropped significant amounts of time during the season. Overall, 87% of the women's team achieved their season best times at the CAC Championship meet. Of the 23 events swum, 6 swimmers qualified for consolation/finals. This year's team may have struggled with their season, however, they were very focused and dedicated to their individual goals.

The 1995-96 Men's Swimming Team ended its season with a 0-10 record overall and a 0-5 record in the CAC Conference. Several meets were lost by 12 points or less, this factor is greatly affected by the size of the team. With three graduating seniors, the team has a strong base for the 1996-97 season. Seniors Pat Full and Eric White challenged the team into a more competitive team throughout the season. Several swimmers accepted this challenge: Terry Kelly dropped over 5 seconds in the 100 yard freestyle. Scott Herdson dropped 10 seconds in the 200 yard Breaststroke, Chuck Richard's dropped 5 seconds in the 100 yard Freestyle and 24 seconds in the 200 yard Freestyle and Phil Turnbull dropped 19 seconds in the 400 yard Individual Medley. These swimmers shared the spotlight as this year's top swimmers. Fortunately for the men's team, they will all be returning next year to extend their challenge to incoming freshman.

Cindy Friend balances atop an extension held by Marcy Hoffman, spotter De Jankowski and Angie Segatti.

During basketball games, the cheerleaders performed sharp dance routines during half time. Dancing with a smile, Debbie Fletcher hits a high "V" position.

The York College cheerleaders added a special touch to the mens' soccer games during the fall season. Becky Goodwin, captain of the squad, led her teammates with a positive attitude and proved to be an excellent leader. One of her teammates commented, "Becky was a leader who led by example."

YOU THINK YOU'RE GOOD..... WHATEVER.

Many have attended York's sporting events to watch the players but few have noticed the cheerleaders. However, over the years, cheerleading at York College has gained a dominant position among York athletics. Four years ago, a new cheerleading coach was hired, Lynne Iati, who has had a major role in turning York's cheerleading squad in the right direction. As a former Baltimore Colts cheerleader and a high school cheerleading coach, Lynne has brought her extensive knowledge of cheerleading to the program.

Not only the coach but also the cheerleaders on the squad make the team successful. Because try-outs are held each spring, every new year has a new cheerleading squad. Each season the cheerleaders pull their own experiences together to develop new ideas for the squad. In addition, the entire squad attends a Universal Cheerleader's Association camp in the summer. This is one more opportunity where the squad learns intricate skills and innovative ideas.

Recently, a few male cheerleaders formed a portion of York's squad. They deserve a great amount of thanks for the dedication they have given to the program. Matt Brindley and Kevin Yanke helped to pull the squad together and make it complete. They took York cheerleading to the next level, helping the squad perform eye-catching routines for the crowd's enjoyment.

Cheerleading at York has grown tremendously over the years and can only continue to improve in the future.

THREE-POINT ATTACK

Swoosh! During the 1995-96 season, the Spartans made 66 three-pointers. Each three-point shot made was accompanied by donations which were exclusively used to fund American Cancer Society-approved research, education, and patient services in Pennsylvania. Students at York College have banded together to help aid the project's success by handing out enrollment forms that ask for pledges. Coaches across the country have joined this team as supporters of this effort. As of March 1, 1996, American Cancer Society research grants totaling $13,170,990 were in effect at fifteen Pennsylvania institutions.

In addition to their three-point attack on cancer, the York College Men's Basketball Team started out of a good note when they won the White Rose City Classic against Division II powerhouse St. Vincent. During the regular season, the Spartans came up short in a couple close games that could have went either way, but they played strong basketball throughout the year. The team leaders were seniors Billy Simmons and Dan Rexroth, who led the team by experience. Simmons, as senior captain, averaged 11.2 points per game. The MVP award went to Dan Rexroth, who also received the Spoungale All-Tournament Honors.

The Spartans had to regroup after losing six seniors from the previous season, but this allowed many team members valuable playing time. This was a great recruiting year and these players show promise for future seasons.

FAST-PACED ACTION

With half of the team consisting of newcomers, the Lady Spartan basketball team definately made a namefor themselves during the 1995-96 season. Returning players included juniors Stacy Chandler, Honora Foley, and MVP Betsy Roberts, and sophomores Lauren Starr, Tina Litz, and Steph Barnes. The five freshman were a hrlpful addition. Val Speakman, Tera Trimmer, Jeanette Tracy, Beth Herchelroath, and Anastasia Colletta each made their contributions.

Although the team was young and often inexperienced, the girls put up tough fights against top ranked teams in the CAC conference. The game between #1 ranked Marymount was almost an upset and the Lady Spartans defeated #2 ranked Mary Washington during the regular season, but were knocked out by the Eagles in the conference play-offs.

The Capital Athletic Conference post-season awards went to Juniors Stacy Chandler and Betsy Roberts, who were both named to the 2nd Team All-CAC squad. Roberts led the CAC in rebounding and field goal percentage and she was second on the Spartan squad in scoring. Chandler led the Spartans in scoring and assists and she was second in rebounding. Chandler was seventh in the CAC scoring.

A team this young has a major advantage over the other teams in the league; no seniors have to be replaced. Expect the 1996-97 Lady Spartans to come out stronger than ever before. The girls are definite contenders for the CAC title which means a trip to the NCAA tournament could be in the making.

A FORCE TO BE RECKONED WITH

York continues to wrestle a very competitive schedule, competing with two Division II teams, one Division I team, and three Division III teams ranked in the top 10 in the nation. The Spartans placed in three of the four tournaments they competed in and had six wrestlers win 20 or more matches. They ended the season ranked 19th in the nation.

At the Metropolitan Conference Championships (national qualifier), York placed 2nd out of nine teams. Once again, only national power Trenton State finished ahead of York. All ten wrestlers placed in the top six in their weight class. Rod Myers (150 lbs.), Tom McAleer (158 lbs.), Jared Goodman (190 lbs.), and Andy Miller (Hwt.) all reached the finals. Miller was the only Spartan to win the tournament. Miller, Myers, Tom McAleer, Goodman, Dave Kennedy (118 lbs.) and Mike Ashley (167 lbs.) all earned a trip to the NCAA Division III National Tournament at Courtland, NY. The six wrestlers qualifying were the most York has taken to the National Tournament. At the Metropolitan Championships, Coach Kessler was named the Conference Coach of the Year.

At the national Tournament, Rod Myers and Jared Goodman placed 6th and 8th respectively to gain All-American status. Mike Ashley, Dan Garner, and Jared Goodman were named Academic All-Americans for their success in the classroom and on the mats. It was the fourth year Goodman was named to the team. York now has 12 Academic All-Americans.

York finished 19th in the country at the National Tournament, its most impressive showing in recent years. Associate Coach Rich Achtzehn was honored at the tournament for his 25 years of coaching.

Senior Rod Myers (150 lbs.) performs an arm bar as he tries to roll his opponent over for a pin. Myers took first in the Hunter Tournament, 2nd in the Metropolitan Conference Championship, 6th in the NCAA Division III Nationals (All-American), 4th place in the Spartan I Invitational and 2nd at King's Tour.

Senior Mike Ashley (167 lbs.) stares into his opponent's face, showing no fear. Ashley took 2nd at King's Tour, 3rd in the Spartan I Invitational, 4th in the Hunter Tournament, 3rd in the Metropolitan Conference Championships, and was a national qualifier / Academic All-American.

With no mercy, Senior Jared Goodman (190 lbs.) performs a half nelson on his opponent. Goodman placed 2nd at the Metropolitan Conference Championships, placed 8th in the NCAA Division III nationals (All-American), and was an Academic All-American (4th Year).

Senior Andy Miller (Heavy weight) is at stance with his opponent and is locking up. Miller placed 1st at King's Tour, 2nd at the Spartan I Invitational 4th in the Hunter Tournament, 1st in the Metropolitan Conference Championships, and was a National Qualifier.

WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS

The 1996 York College baseball team entered the season with high expectations after returning all but two players from last year's NCAA tournament squad.

The Spartans opened the season with a win in North Carolina against nationally top-ranked Methodist College. York senior co-captain pitcher Brian Renyolds and Sophomore Troy Walters combined on the victory. The rest of the Southern games did not go as well after York dropped five of their next six games. The only other victory was over the University of Pittsburg as Renyolds and Walters again combined for the win.

York returned North with a strong lineup of returning starters led by 1995 All-Mid Atlantic Regional selections Dave Seng and co-captain Rod Anderson.

After improving to 18 and 8 overall, York captured the regular season Capital Athletic Conference Championships with a record of 8-2. The Spartans hosted the CAC tournament and knocked off 1995 champion Salisbury State in the first round. Designated hitter sophomore Mike Scappa delivered the game-winning hit to help carry York into the finals. The Spartans blew out Mary Washington College in the finals to win their first CAC Championship since 1991.

York continued its winning ways after the conference tournament with victories over Susquehanna, Elizabethtown, Messiah, Lebanon Valley, Allentown, and Johns Hopkins to push its record to 27-10.

Second baseman Jeanette Tracy, named to the CAC 2nd team, is in the midst of hurling the ball.

First baseman Wendy Smith is alert as she anticipates the next play of the game.

...AND HERE'S THE PITCH!

Battling hardships unnumbered, the York College women's softball team managed to survive the season and end with an 8-8-1 record. In addition to the many injuries and illnesses suffered along the way, the women had to contend with brutal Mother Nature. Instead of giving in, the women demonstrated their desire to play and were rewarded for their efforts by taking second place in the Capital Athletic Conference.

Special recognition goes out to MVP sophomore pitcher Jen Hane, who skillfully led the team to 6 wins. Hane also ended the season with an exceptional 1.4 ERA. Freshman Jeanette Tracy led the team in doubles and had one homerun. Senior co-captain Wendy Smith also had one homerun and finished her college career with an outstanding .963 fielding average. She will surely be missed. Junior co-captain Jess Payne was also an invaluable asset, leading the team in hits. Although she ended the season early due to an ankle injury, junior co-captain Stacy Chandler managed a perfect fielding average and tied Tracy and Payne with 2 triples each. Hane, Tracy, and Chandler also received All Conference Honors.

The team placed behind Mary Washington and Salisbury State. Senior Christine Stype and Sophomore Nicki Bogarty won consolidations in Flight One doubles. Senior Andrea Hannum represented the team well as captain.

A determined athlete, Ben Hatt runs toward the pole vault and jumps 13' to take second place at the CAC meet at Mary Washington.

At the last meet of the regular season at Dickinson College, George Livingston broke the meet record for the 10,000m run with a time of 35:32.56.

At the CAC Championships at Mary Washington College, Kinte Bailey took first place in the Long Jump with a jump that measured 21' 5 1/2".

WINNING STREAK

Sleet, snow, pouring rain, and howling wind was not enough to break the winning streak of the 1996 Men's Track and Field Team. Specifically during the meet at Juniata, where the rain was spritzen and the air was frigid, these men proved themselves to be well prepared due to the tough conditioning they were required to endure. It didn't matter if they had to run on the slushy cinder track during practice or if they had to push themselves to withstand cold tense muscles to complete that extra 400m sprint, these men were up to the challenge.

At the CAC Conference meet that took place on a gorgeous day at Mary Washington College, York had 9 athletes receive All-Conference honors. A winning performance by Kinte Bailey in the long jump earned him a spot on 1st Team All-Conference. 2nd Team honors were awarded to Ben Hatt (pole vault), Doug Miller (triple jump), Mike Goodwin (discus), the 4x100 relay team (Kinte Bailey, Dan Miller, Ben Hatt, and anchor Dwayne Malone) and the 4x400 relay team (Doug Miller, Brett Cutler, Josh Syvertsen, and Mile Pisors). The York Men's Team finished in 3rd place at the Capital Athletic Conference.

Two school records were broken during the season. Mike Goodwin broke the hammer record with a toss of 122'3" and Ben Hatt tied the pole vault record with a jump of 13'0". The MVP award was earned by Doug Miller, who is an excellent all-around athlete. The season ended with the men achieving an 8-1 record, which is the best in school history.

Politics

Politically in 1995 & 1996, affirmative action, taxes and Medicare reform were the issues facing President Bill Clinton these years. Due to the forthcoming presidential election, candidates were already hot on the campaign trail, gathering voters. For the Republicans, Sen. Bob Dole from Kansas, Sen. Phil Gramm from Texas and Gov. Pete Wilson from California all campaigned with Bob Dole being the Republican candidate, running against President Bill Clinton as well as Ross Perot. In the Republican controlled congress, Newt Gingrich rose to the position of Speaker of the House.

The World Around Us

In 1995 & 1996, the world around us seemed to change every minute. Internationally, Israel and the Palestinians concluded a major agreement which transferred control of much of the occupied West Bank to its Arab residents. Later, Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin was assassinated on November 4, 1995 after a political rally. Four years after it began, the civil war in what was formally known as Yugoslavia continued and there was still no peace between the Croats, Serbs, and Muslims. In Great Britain, John Major, the British Prime Minister, resigned as the Conservative leader and 12 days later was reelected with a 66 percent vote by Tory members of Parliament. Russian President Boris Yeltsin held onto his first term as president, while being hospitalized with problems concerning his heart.

OF 95 & 96

Sports

1995 was the year that Atlanta, after 30 years, finally won a world series in a 4-2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. In the Superbowl, The Dallas Cowboys played the Pittsburgh Steelers and won 27-17 in Superbowl XXX. The baseball great Mickey Mantle died of liver cancer. Finally, Baltimore Orioles shortstop Cal Ripken broke Lou Gehrig's record and played in 2,131 consecutive baseball games, thus breaking a record that had been held since 1939.

Entertainment

In Entertainment, you wanted the best and you got it. We stayed glued to our television screens, awaiting the outcome of the O.J. Simpson trial with everyone asking... did he or didn't he? We were entertained by such greats in the music field as Blues Traveler, Jon Bon Jovi, Boyz II Men, Garth Brooks, The Cranberries, Sheryl Crow, The Dave Matthews Band, Green Day, Hootie and the Blowfish, TLC, and Jodeci. An entertaining event in which we all enjoy, year after year is the Miss America Pageant. Crowned on her 24th birthday, Miss Oklahoma, Shawntel Smith became the new Miss America. With the Rolling Stones as software pitchmen, Bill Gates and the Microsoft Corporation introduced the Windows 95 operating system, bringing not only a new way to do business, but a new wave of entertainment possibilities to us all.

The HORIZON was printed by JOSTENS Printing and Publishing from its State College, PA plant. Our representative to the company was David Ruler and our plant Consultant was Renee Biggans.

The Cover was created in consultation with the staff by JOSTENS creative resource artist Rick Brooks. It is a tru-life litho-combo cover printed with process inks to which Gray 356 and Maroon 373 silkscreen inks were applied. Embossing included custom dies and the application of brushstroke grain. A matte lamination was applied to the entire cover.

The endsheet design utilized Navy 540 and Marron 194 applied to snow white stock and printed different front and back.

CLOSING

Like all good things, the 1996 Horizon Yearbook must come to an end. The seniors of the Graduating class of December of 1995 and May of 1996 will look back on their years at York College with good memories of times past. All of us arrive here out of a want and a longing to become something better than we were before. Those members of the graduating class have achieved a great deal to be proud of. Your years at York College have changed you for the better, as you have been a part of many of the changes to your Alma Mater. Look at the obvious, such as the construction of the Music, Arts, and Communication building, and the expansion of active organizations on campus. Now, our graduates are prepared to venture forth in the world with the feelings of accomplishment of not only a job well done, but also with feelings in some part of sadness. A time in which all of us dream of desire and await, the time of graduation, has come. Now, instead of an end, it is a new beginning which is wanted. A new beginning filled with the hope and dreams and desires that college life has enabled us to not only dream, but to make a reality.

As a freshman, I look at the seniors and see how much they have accomplished and realize that it is my job in the next three years to build on what they have left behind for me. To these graduates, the 1996 Horizon staff sends their best and wishes them many happy years ahead.

To my staff I hope that the 1995-1996 school year has been as fulfilling of a year for you as it has been for me. I wish you many years of luck and happiness ahead. It has been a wonderful year, and you should be proud of yourselves.

Sincerely,
